As mandated under Section 25 of the RTI Act, 2005, the Nagaland Information Commission has published its Annual Report for the year 2014-15. The prompt response of the Public Authorities of the Government of Nagaland to the request of the Nagaland Information Commission to submit their implementation report on RTI Act, 2005 and the proactive disclosures as required under Section 25(1) and Section 4 of the RTI Act, 2005 within a specific time frame has enabled the Commission in publishing the report on schedule.

Over the years, there has been a steady increase in the number of RTI applications received from the Secretariat, Directorates and the Other Units. However, during the period from 2014-15, statistics has shown that for the first time, the number of RTI applications received from the district levels has decreased. The total number of RTI applications received by Public Authorities in the State during 2014-15 has remained unchanged with that of the previous year in 2013-14.

There has been a decrease in the number of Second Appeals filed before the Nagaland Information Commission during the period under report, which reflects the level of satisfaction and replies on time by the PIOs and disposal by the FAAs. However, on the other hand, there was an increase in the number of complaints, which may be attributed to the growing awareness among the citizens.

The Nagaland Information Commission would welcome and appreciate critical assessments and useful feedback from those who have taken pains to peruse the Annual Report of 2014-15. The hard work put in by the officers and staff of the Nagaland Information Commission is also another factor in the timely publication of the Annual Report for 2014-15. The Nagaland Information Commission wishes to place on record its deep appreciation to the Administrative and Directorate Heads of the Public Authorities and to the officers and staff of the Nagaland Information Commission for their support and cooperation.

The celebration of the RTI Week-2014 was held on 17th October 2014 at Hotel Vivor, Kohima. As part of the celebration, the members of the fourth estate from within the state, the Social media and RTI Activists, Student Bodies and NGOs were invited. Besides, former State Information Commissioners and Government officials particularly from the DIPR (Department of Information and Public Relations) and ATI (Administrative Training Institute) also attended.

Shri Shailesh Gandhi, former Information Commissioner, Central Information Commission, New Delhi and RTI Activist, and Shri Samudra Gupta Kashyap, Veteran Journalist and Assistant Editor of the Indian Express based in Guwahati were the Resource Persons for the Programme.

INAUGURAL FUNCTION:

The Chairperson of the Inaugural function, Smti Kevinino P. Meru, Acting Chief Information Commissioner, Nagaland, in her inaugural address, while welcoming the resource persons and the participants, highlighted some important activities carried out by the Nagaland Information Commission during the RTI Week celebrations held in the previous years such as: Radio talk in the All India Radio; Panel discussion on the RTI Act, 2005 and its importance in the Doordarshan Kendra, Kohima; production of a short RTI film titled “My Right, My Voice” in the local dialect Nagamese with English sub-titles and production of a RTI song titled “Adhikar janibo Lage” in the local dialect (Nagamese). She also informed that the RTI short film and song were given for wide publicity to all the Village Councils within the State. She further stated that the RTI Act, 2005 has already been translated into 12 (twelve) local dialects and the translation of the Act in the 4 (four) remaining local dialects were underway.

Smti Kevinino P. Meru disclosed that when the RTI Act was first implemented in the State during the year 2005-06, there were only forty six (46) number of RTI applications received by various Public Authorities, but during 2013-14 the number of RTI applications received has increased exponentially to more than 4,000, and that most of the cases are solved at the Public Information Officer’s level.

Also during this period from 2011-12 to 2012-13, the Commission took up the initiative of awareness generation and propagation of the RTI Act and embarked on a Sensitisation-cum-interactive session on RTI for APIOs, PIOs, FAA and Public Authorities. The Commission interacted with more than 1,200 PIOs/APIOs in the state capital as well as district Headquarters. No RTI application is pending with the Commission at present.

She said that media has a great role to play in disseminating the RTI Act to the general public. She however felt that a lot requires to be done in spreading the awareness of RTI and had sought the help of the media.

The Keynote address was delivered by Shri. Shailesh Gandhi, former Information Commissioner, Central Information Commission, New Delhi and RTI Activist. In his address Shri.
Shailesh Gandhi, who was involved in drafting the National Right to Information (RTI) Act, shared an insight into the development and objective of the Act. The Constitution envisages that all are equal before the law. However, this was not practical earlier, and after the introduction of the RTI Act, 2005, the situation has changed. He said that RTI established the Individual Sovereignty of each citizen and acts as a powerful tool to improve governance, making democracy more meaningful. He said that with the RTI Act, everyone now has the right to access any information from every Government establishments, except confidential matters pertaining to foreign countries. Citing examples through which RTI brought many developmental changes in the country, he suggested that the bad road condition between Dimapur and Kohima could be improved through RTI. He also said that Nagaland state could attract many tourists due to its scenic beauty if there was proper development.

The Inaugural function ended with Vote of thanks tendered by Mr Bukchem Phom, State Information Commissioner.

Plenary Session-I: “Impact of RTI on Society”.

During the Plenary Session-I, while speaking on the topic, “Impact of RTI on Society”, Shri Shailesh Gandhi said, “RTI is not a new right, it is the fundamental right of the citizen ingrained in the Constitution of India”. And he explained that the Act provides a check on the Government and has so far been effective in bringing about crucial changes in various parts of the country. He said that people in general are not happy with the system of governance in the country and the RTI acts as a tool to solve their problems. He said RTI enables the citizens to find out the information they look for. RTI is a fundamental grain of the Indian Constitution and citizens should use it to have Accountability, Transparency and Good Governance.

In his speech, he narrated some success stories arising out of RTI applications. One such example is in the case of Mr Surup Singh Naik, a former Minister of State who was convicted under criminal charges and who, after conviction, complained of pain in his left chest to the authorities. So, instead of being lodged in the jail he was admitted to Hospital. A RTI application was filed on this matter by Mr Shailesh Gandhi requesting the authority to furnish the medical history sheet of Mr Surup Singh Naik. The RTI application was rejected by the PIO of the Hospital but on the larger interest of the public, the RTI application was filed in the High Court and the High Court accepted the case. The said politician tried admitting to different hospitals for the same complaint, but he was refused admission by all the hospitals.

Another success story of RTI was the case of a Police Officer in Mumbai who was suspended on the allegation of rape, but without hearing the case he was re-instated back in the service. Here again, Mr Shailesh Gandhi filed a RTI application to the concerned department asking for a copy of the order re-instating the tainted cop back into service. In the light of the RTI application, the authorities reviewed the matter and subsequently the tainted cop was discharged from service.

He also narrated a success story of a 21 year old boy from Bihar with just Standard VII qualification who had come to Mumbai in search of job. After getting a job, he had applied for a Ration Card from the concerned authority. And since he could not get it on time, he approached the concerned office for the same. The peon of that office even refused him from entering the office because the boy failed to offer bribe inorder to speed up the process of his Ration Card. After having attended a RTI workshop, he filed a RTI application and within a short span of time he got the Ration Card from the concerned authority.

He said that 50 to 60 percent of the citizens are not aware of what RTI can do. And to popularize and disseminate the RTI Act, media people may publish some interesting and constructive RTI success stories in their newspapers. He also urged upon the Civil Society and the Media to take this Act forward and make it grow so as to usher in the true essence of Democracy. He advised the gathering that RTI is not a weapon but a tool for the citizens to fight against corruption. He encouraged those present to try to make RTI popular as RTI can be very rewarding. However, he cautioned that RTI should never be used as a measure for personal vengeance on anyone.

Panel Discussion on the “Impact of RTI on Society”:
The Plenary Session-I on the “Impact of RTI on Society” was followed by a Panel Discussion with Mr. K. V. Nurumi, Senior Journalist as the Moderator and Mr. Shailesh Gandhi; Dr. Hovithal N. Sothu, State Coordinator, ATI; Mr. Worhonthung Ezung, Under Secretary, NIC; and Ms. Monalisa Changkija, Editor, Nagaland Page as the Panellists.

Mr. Shailesh Gandhi: He said that the RTI Act is dubbed as one of the most important legislations passed by the Parliament of India and that, today, the works and services rendered by the Government will be monitored by this Act. He also stated that freedom of expression is important and it is the role of media to inform the citizens.

Replied to the query on whether RTI is a good tool for opposition politicians, he said, sooner or later the blackmailing will be weeded out. He also informed the gathering that Central Government is trying to amend the RTI Act but not likely to be amended soon.

Replied to the query as to whether RTI Act is applicable to the private sectors, he said it is not applicable to the private sectors.

Replied to the query about what would be the next course of action in the case of a RTI application filed three years back and having received no reply, he encouraged to pursue the case till satisfactory reply is received by filing appeals before the First Appellate Authority and then the Information Commission. However, since the RTI application was filed three years ago, it would be considered time-barred by now, and hence advised to file fresh RTI on the matter.

He also welcomed the participants to ask any problem through his email address which is given in his profile.

Shri Worhonthung Ezung, Under Secretary, Nagaland Information Commission, Nagaland informed that on the implementation of the RTI Act in Nagaland, the number of RTI applications have remarkably gone up from forty-six (46) in the initial year of 2006 to over four thousand (4000) during 2013-14 alone, indicating that there is awareness of the RTI Act among the citizens. However, despite the growing figures, he emphasized on the need to generate more awareness and conduct more seminars on the RTI Act at the grassroots level, where he feels that the Media can be instrumental and take an active part. But he said that by simply publishing RTI articles in the newspapers is not sufficient; the media should explore into Investigative journalism and reporting which contributes to democracy and, resultanty, to the citizens by nurturing an informed citizenry. Furthermore, investigative journalism helps media to monitor the performance of public institutions and share the findings with the citizens.

In reply to a query regarding visible impact of RTI in Nagaland Government, he stated that, before RTI, the chapter on Records Management in the 'Manual of Office Procedure' was given the least importance and the government and its departments did not take care of their records. However, with the advent of the RTI Act, the very chapter on Records Management has become the cornerstone and the Government machineries were forced to maintain records, and resultanty, there has been tremendous improvement in the maintenance of records in the public authorities in the State.

Procedurally, if an applicant files a RTI application seeking some information from a particular Department, it is the responsibility of that Department to reply the same. The Commission has nothing to do with it. But when the applicant cannot get the satisfactory reply from the PIO or Appellate Authority or the Department could not reply the information sought by the applicant within the prescribed time, he can file a complaint or Second Appeal to the Commission. He also informed that the Department which received the highest number of RTI application is the Department of Transport. These RTI applications were mostly from outside the state pertaining to verification of Driving Licenses and Registration of vehicles etc.

To the query whether the Commission is imparting awareness training to the student community in schools and colleges, he replied that such training is the responsibility of the appropriate Government as per the RTI Act. However, during the celebration of the RTI Weeks in the previous years, the Commission had, through the District Administration and the DIPR conducted Essay competition, Quiz competition, RTI Slogan competition etc. at the college and school levels in all the districts. Also, the RTI short film produced by the Nagaland Information Commission was screened in all the districts during the celebration of the RTI Weeks in the previous years. Further, the Department of Rural Development had replicated the RTI Short film and had distributed to all the villages in Nagaland.

Dr Hovithal N. Sothu, State Coordinator, ATI: As part of the capacity building, the Administrative Training Institute (ATI) has been conducting trainings, workshops and seminars on RTI not only for the PIOs, APIOs of the public authorities but also for NGOs and RTI Activists etc. He informed that a few thousand RTI Activists had been sensitized and ATI plans to conduct more such seminars in the near future.

In reply to a query regarding awareness programme on RTI for the youth, he informed that during the period, 2011-12, the ATI in collaboration with YouthNet, a NGO that works for RTI had launched RTI awareness for youth under the theme, “Youth for transparency and good governance” in the colleges in Kohima. He requested the audience to discuss on their past experiences like filing of RTI application etc.
Ms. Monalisa Changkija, Editor, Nagaland Page: She stated that every individual should be well informed about RTI and maintained that RTI was 'under used' in Nagaland. She asserted, in a small state like Nagaland, words get by fast and people know a lot of things but they lack evidence and RTI is the tool to get the evidence. Print media and electronic media should not work for only commerce but they should work for the benefit of the citizens also. She appealed the participants from the NIC, Naga Blog, YouthNet, Naga Spear, ATI or Govt. Departments to take home the lessons learnt from the success stories shared by Mr Gandhi and also to create awareness about RTI to all citizens.

She said that fear makes silence and many people are consumed with fear, which in turn makes them silent and impotent. She stressed on the need to overcome this attitude of fear and utilize the RTI to strengthen the governance in the State.

Plenary Session-II: “RTI and Role of Media”

During the post-lunch session, Shri Samudra Gupta Kashyap, Veteran Journalist and Assistant Editor of the Indian Express based in Guwahati spoke on “RTI and Role of Media”. He said that the majority of the people have learnt to use RTI Act because of the Media. He stated that RTI has made investigative journalism easier and less risky. Journalists can acquire information by using the RTI Act. He said media can primarily play and has been playing a major role in promotion of the RTI Act itself.

“Media occupies a very critical place in the process of governance and acts as a gatekeeper. Media disseminates critical messages to the citizens and highlights various issues, concerns and initiatives that effect their lives. Media promotes good governance by facilitating the collective action of citizens for attaining sustainable socio economic outcome for the overall and common good of the society,” he added. He however viewed that RTI has yet to become part of journalism curriculum in India. Very little effort has been put in by the authorities to take media on board RTI and consider it as a force multiplier. When more journalists and media houses start using RTI, things will be much better, he added.

He also said that the right to freedom of speech and expression as enshrined in the Constitution was incomplete before the advent of the RTI Act 2005. He pointed out that the media has three major functions – Information, Education and Entertainment and as far as RTI is concerned, media directly engages itself in information as well as education. The State mostly depends on the media’s role in informing about the activities of the Government and also in educating about the RTI Act, thus facilitating the citizens. At the same time, the Government also needs to get feedback from the citizens, which can be done through the media. And the media, both print and electronic including radio, TV and the internet plays a very important role. He said that in the context of RTI implementation, journalists’ at times have played a dual role, as the user of RTI Act and as watchdog. However, he said that though there has not been major media campaign to promote the usage of the Act, the awareness has been generated through news articles based on RTI investigation.

Media is considered as the fourth estate or pillar of democracy. Therefore, media should maintain credibility and accuracy. Media should be easily accessible and should properly guide the citizens. Media should also share all RTI successful and failure stories to the public and get the feedback from the citizens. He cited a success story about the road condition of C.K. Agarwal Path which was very bad and hence always resulted in heavy traffic jams. It was not repaired for many years. But when a RTI application was filed to the PIO of the concerned authority, the road was repaired immediately. It was a success story about the road condition of C.K. Agarwal Path which was very bad and hence always resulted in heavy traffic jams. It was not repaired for many years. But when a RTI application was filed to the PIO of the concerned authority, the road was repaired immediately. It was successful because of the RTI Act.

He also cited another success story of Arunachal Pradesh in the Food & Civil Supplies Department wherein subsidized rice did not reach a particular colony. And when one RTI activist filed a RTI application to the concerned authority for supply of the rice at subsidized rate, that particular colony got the rice at cheaper price.

Similarly, he opined that the problem of proxy teachers in Nagaland, if so desired, can be done away with the help of RTI Act.

He suggested that for the successful implementation of the RTI Act, it is required to:

i. Publish the names of the Public Information Officer/FAA

ii. To publish suo moto disclosures by all the departments

iii. To place signboards in the offices

iv. Public Authority to train Govt. officials

v. To give training to village functionaries

vi. To maintain all records for further references.

Panel Discussion on “RTI and Role of Media”:

The Plenary Session was followed by a Panel Discussion with Dr. Alem W. Longchar, Librarian, ATI as the Moderator and Mr. Samudra Gupta Kashyap; Mr. Limawati, Joint Director, DIPR; Ms. Banuo Haralu, Journalist; and Mr. Worhonthung Ezung, Under Secretary, NIC in place of Mr. Geoffrey Yaden, Editor, Nagaland Post as the Panellists.

Mr. Limawati, Joint Director, DIPR: Replying to a query about how far the Department of Information and Public relations (DIPR) had done in the dissemination and implementation of the RTI Act, vis-à-vis private media and other govt. major programmes, he stated that the DIPR from the very beginning, used to publicise the Government programmes and activities to the public and the government servants in a daily Bulletin in Nagamese, 'Naga News'. And in regard to RTI Act, he informed that the DIPR used to publish their proactive disclosure and the appointments of PIOs/APIOs/FAAs. Besides, since 2007, an 'Information Capsule' on RTI has been published as a regular feature in their monthly magazine-'Warrior', which is distributed to all the Departments and district headquarters. Also, the DIPR has assisted the Nagaland Information Commission during the observation/celebration of the RTI Week every year in the districts, where the DC held functions, seminars and other activities on RTI, and in the screening of the RTI short film produced by the Nagaland Information Commission through their District Offices and the private cable operators. The Department had also translated the RTI Act into the different local languages.

He also observed that the rural people, instead of watching the DDK telecast programmes or Radio broadcasting programmes, prefer to utilize the services of Tatasky, Airtel etc. as these broadcasts very attractive and variety of programmes.

He said the RTI activists should not simply submit the RTI application to the PIOs but to pursue it till satisfactory reply is received. He observed that the Departments used to send only their PIOs for RTI trainings and many PIOs in the Departments had already attended 2 or 3 RTI trainings. He, therefore, suggested that other officers especially the senior bureaucrats should also be sent for RTI trainings so that they can understand the real meaning of RTI Act and in dealing with RTI files or matters quickly.

Ms. Banuo Haralu, Journalist: She said that the shortage of reporters in the State is a deterrent factor for the State's media houses to depute reporters with the primary duty to file RTI applications unlike national media houses. Moreover, she lamented that due to non availability of training facility for journalists in the North Eastern States, the State of Nagaland do not have professional journalists. She also said that the young generation should be encouraged to take up journalism profession and they should be exposed outside the state to enhance their professional skills. The young journalist should be given training to use modern technologies viz. face book, website, internet etc. to enrich their knowledge of electronic media.

She said that the newspapers in Nagaland were struggling to exist as social networking sites such as Facebook are gaining more popularity as an interactive medium amongst the young educated people instead of newspapers. She suggested that since the people in the rural places and villages are not able to buy newspapers, reading rooms may be set up in all villages to inculcate the habit of reading.

On the distribution of the RTI Short film by the Department of Rural Development to all the villages in Nagaland, she suggested that a study and feedback mechanism should be put into place so as to ascertain whether, or not, the information is actually reaching to the people at the grassroots levels.

Mr. Samudra Gupta Kashyap: Newspaper editors are not well equipped with the knowledge of RTI, therefore, training may be imparted to young journalists on the subject for the greater interest of the public. He informed that even Guwahati University in Assam do not have such facility.

And to promote RTI activities, he suggested the following:

1. To request the Central Govt. to set up Radio station in the rural areas and to broadcast the RTI subject to the masses.
2. Award may be given to the best RTI Activist of the year.
3. Award may be given to the best coverage for both electronic and print media on RTI subject.
4. To give award to the best Journalist.
Smti. Monalisa Changkija: Besides giving training in RTI to Journalists, there is also a need to give training on values, visions and leadership so that the media is not misused. She suggested that it is necessary to encourage the local dialect newspaper as almost all the local people prefer to read their own local dialect newspaper as they understand it better.

She said that people of far-flung areas do not get newspaper. Since the illiterate people in the villages are not able to either read newspaper or use the internet, she suggested that the Government take initiative to broadcast/telecast the RTI subject through Radio and Television so that rural masses could reap benefits out of it.

Shri. Temjen Jamir, Editor of Tir Yim Yim, a vernacular daily, said while the local newspapers are responsible to disseminate information, radio is still relevant for the people living in the rural areas to access news and information. However, he lamented that due to poor quality of signal and reception, viewers cannot get good clarity of the DDK telecast programmes and the listeners cannot get clarity of the broadcasts on AIR, even in Dimapur, not to speak of those in the rural villages.

He also shared that as per survey report, more than 80 percent are English readers and that only 27 percent of the readers understand English and rest 63 percent were just subscribers and whereas 60% read only advertisement. He suggested that seminars may be conducted periodically in the remote places of Nagaland.

A participant remarked that for the successful implementation of RTI, he was expecting everything from the NIC but it is now understood that it depends on both Electronic & Print media, civil societies (NGOs) and citizens.

Another participant also remarked that awareness of the RTI Act is required not only in the cities and towns, but it should also spread to the rural places and villages to bring about transparency and accountability in all levels of governance.

CLOSING FUNCTION:

The closing programme was chaired by Shri. Bukchem Phom, State Information Commissioner, Nagaland, who also gave a short remark.

Feedbacks on behalf of the Participants were given by Ms. Moala Imchen from Naga Spear, a social media blog and Shri. Kezhokhoto Savi, President of Nagaland Voluntary and Consumer Organisation (NVCO) & Convenor of Against Corruption And Unabated Taxation (ACAUT), Nagaland.

The Resource Persons, Mr. Shailesh Gandhi and Mr. Samudra Gupta Kashyap also gave their reactions. The closing function ended with concluding remarks delivered by Smti. Soyimna Aier Koza, Secretary, Nagaland Information Commission.
